Canadian Journal of Plant Science: Associate Editor/Reviewer

The Canadian Journal of Plant Science (CJPS) appoints some new Associate Editors (AE's) every year, drawn from the membership of CSA (and CSHS). Each AE handles about 7 papers per year. It is a good way to contribute to your discipline, to get to know scientists you might not otherwise meet, and it adds to your resume. Are you interested in becoming an Associate Editor for CJPS?

- Yes, I am interested in becoming an Associate Editor for CJPS
 No, I am not interested in becoming an Associate Editor for CJPS

Similarly, CJPS needs reviewers. Every scientist who publishes in peer reviewed journals should expect to review 3-5 papers for every paper they write. If asked, would you serve as a reviewer for CJPS?

- Yes, I am interested in reviewing papers for CJPS
 No, I am not interested in reviewing papers for CJPS

Please give some keywords for the subjects of papers you'd like to review (80 characters max).
